

PROJECT FOCUS

To more effectively evaluate the success of Community Powered Workshop's capacity building efforts.

DELIVERABLES

- Resource library - compilation of relevant capacity building performance measure examples and evaluation frameworks
- Williamson Creek project-specific logic model, including recommendations for quantifiable indicators
- Generic project logic model template (to be used when CPW adds a new project to its portfolio)

Community Powered Workshop is a local Austin organization that connects and amplifies the voices of communities who have not yet been heard to create powerful places that promote a healthy future and break barriers of systemic injustice. It believes that by recognizing and mobilizing the inherent strength and existing assets in a community, it can co-create powerful places that support local collective visions.
